Dear Madam,

We, the Polish Society of Sworn and Specialized Translators TEPIS, wish to inform you that we are undertaking every effort to make the Polish government aware of the importance of cooperation with non-governmental translator and interpreter organizations. Likewise, we are pleased to have participated in the TRAFUT Project, designed to support the EU Commission DG Justice in the facilitation process of the implementation of EU Directive on the right to interpretation and translation. Our contribution to the Project bore fruits and we hope it will continue to do so in the nearest future.

For the purposes of the TRAFUT Project the TEPIS Society in cooperation with the National School of Judiciary and Public Prosecution devised and conducted a special survey on the quality of court interpretation and translation in Poland. This cooperation resulted in the TEPIS Society's offer to launch a special course within the training programmes offered by the School and hopefully the School will find funds for this in the 2013-2014 academic year.

Thanks to TEPIS' efforts, the Prosecutor General invited TEPIS experts to deliver a lecture on the efficient cooperation of judges, prosecutors and the police with sworn translators for the sake of proper access to justice in Poland. The lecture was transmitted by videoconference to 18 regional prosecutor's offices across the country.

We also endeavour to persuade the Ministry of Interior to enable us to deliver similar lectures and/or training programmes for police officers involved in criminal proceedings.
