Prague, September 1st, 2014

Dear Madam,

The Union of Interpreters and Translators (JTP) is a professional association founded in 1990, and currently has around 550 members. Every year – on the occasion of the feast of St. Jerome, the Patron Saint of interpreters and translators – we organize St. Jerome's Days (Jeronýmovy dny) in our headquarters in the centre of Prague – a two-day festival of lectures, presentations and debates on topics related to the translation and interpreting professions. There is free entry to this event, it requires no preliminary registration and is open to all candidates and supporters, i.e. not only to interpreters and translators. This year's 20th anniversary of the St. Jerome's Days will take place between November 7th and 8th, 2014.

This year we would like to allow the chairmen of interpreting organizations from neighbouring countries to participate in the festival and get acquainted with our activities. We plan to ensure simultaneous interpretation of selected lectures and presentations into English for this purpose.

Unfortunately it is not in our financial possibilities to pay the costs associated with travel and accommodation in Prague.

The program of previous years of St. Jerome's Days (in Czech language) can be viewed at:

2012 Programme: http://www.jtpunion.org/SPIP/article.php3?id_article=3319

2013 Programme: http://www.jtpunion.org/spip/article.php3?id_article=3596

and this year's program is continuously updated and can be downloaded:

If you are interested in participating in this year's St. Jerome's Days or have any further questions, please feel free to contact us at the following e-mail address.

Yours faithfully,
Amalaine Diabová
President of the Union of Interpreters and Translators
